

Paneurhythmy by Peter Deunov “Dance of the Soul” Celebrating the Sacred through Movement

Paneurhythmy is a sacred dance.

Its music and movement were created by the Spiritual Master Peter Deunov (1864–1944 Bulgaria). The word Paneurhythmy signifies “Supreme Cosmic Rhythm.” PAN means total, universal, cosmic; EU means true, supreme, emanating from the essence of all things. RHYTHMY refers to the correct regularity of all movement.

The Master Omraam Mikhaël Aïvanhov, who carried the Teaching forward, said,

“Everything is rhythm in the universe and the human being belongs to this great cosmic rhythm, and whether perceived or not, all biological or physical functions obey these rhythmic laws. Through lifestyle, thoughts, feelings and actions, these enter more or less in harmony with this universal rhythm.”

The music and the dance are merely attempts to attune ourselves with this cosmic rhythm. By creating paneurhythmy, the Master Deunov has given a method to harmonize ourselves with these rhythms.

How is it danced?

The movements of the paneurhythmy, which symbolize the ascension of the human soul toward the divine, are danced in a circle in pairs.

What are the benefits of Paneurhythmy?

On a spiritual level:

Dancing in the open air allows the soul to be fed by the light of the heavens, expanding and communicating with Mother Nature. By performing the harmonious movements of Paneurhythmy, we encourage the free circulation of higher energies that put us in touch with the Beings of Light and the Angels.

On a mental level:

When we have learned the movements well and their relation to the music, then our thoughts can be liberated and we can focus on their meaning. Our minds are enlightened and it is possible to receive new revelations, connecting ourselves to much higher levels.

On an emotional level

The practice opens us to love, hope, joy and enthusiasm. The music of the paneurhythmy creates deep inner calm.

On a physical level:

Strengthens the muscles and bones, increases the organs’ capacities and regulates their functions. Improves breathing, blood circulation and the nervous system. Dancing in the morning, in nature, when the prâna is most abundant, rejuvenates and creates a beautiful body, flexible, filled with strength and vitality.

The course will be facilitated by Michel and Carmen Piccone who have been teaching the Paneurhythmy for 15 years in different countries.

As the Paneurhythmy is a sacred dance, we need to prepare for it in advance. The following information will help us enhance this.

Dress code:

We must bear in mind that the dance itself on Monday is a ceremony and we should dress accordingly. The brothers should wear white and the sisters wear plain and light coloured skirts or dresses in one colour.

For learning and practice of this dance, please avoid sports wear, dark colours such as brown or black, and patterns.

For those who prefer not to wear a dress, then a plain loose tunic or shirt and trousers (Hindu style) is acceptable.
